– Sitka, AK, Long Island, Tract M –

Oceanfront property of 6.88 acres (30.000m²) on beautiful Long Island. Located 15 minutes by boat, approx 5 miles south of Sitka, Alaska's former Russian capital. There are approximately 15 lots on this 70 acre island. The roughly triangular shaped lot is facing the sea towards North and South. The north side would typically be the access to the lot, as there is a natural harbour in between Long Island and Mertz Island providing mooring possibilities for all island property owners. The larger south side is marked by three ravines, providing an interesting topography for building purposes. The lot is heavily forested with Hemlocks, Sitka spruces and other trees and brushes. The highest point on the lot, closer to the south shore, is approximately 80 feet above sea level and provides a panoramic view towards the open Pacific.

Our Town July 18, 2013

The Soupster embraces negativity to achieve the Middle Way

"You don't want to not buy a boat right now," Lars told the Soupster, as the two men met up in a light rain on dock finger G to look over some possibilities. "Don't you think that I wouldn't say this if I didn't think it was a good idea?"

Despite the serious handicap of always using "the negative tense," Lars was a crack salesman and mechanic for boats and boat motors. He knew his stuff and he always told the truth.

If Lars wanted to sharpen his merchant chops further, he probably should have smiled once in a while. But smiles may fade over time. Lars didn't. And even more importantly to customers whose very lives could hang on a misfiring spark plug or misfitting drain plug, Lars Boats & Motors brought those customers safely home without fail.

"Not a totally terrible track record," Lars said. "At least not yet."

Like malaria, the Boat Fever virus lies dormant in many in Our Town, only to flare up when conditions are favorable to it.

So it was with the Soupster, who had responded to his first taste of gloriously grilled Sitka Sound summer king salmon by thinking, "I gotta get a boat." That taste came at the Soupster's favorite restaurant. When he saw the price of his meal, the Soupster thought, "I really gotta get a boat!"

Another of Lars' inborn sales skills was an excellent radar – if anybody was having Boat Fever thoughts, Lars knew just by looking at them. It was a little creepy actually.

"You want to be sure not to get the wrong boat for yourself," Lars said.

"True," said the Soupster. "If I was practical I would get a skiff and a trailer, or a good rubber boat."

"But you don't want anything too small," Lars said. "But I don't have to explain that you're not the King of the World on some boat that's way too big."

"Well, I'm not thinking of grandiose," said the Soupster, trying out "Lars Speak."

"Just not something that's all wrong for me," he added.

Lars stroked his chin. "You may not like this idea, but let me not hold it back from you."

"Don't," said the Soupster.

"It's never a good idea not to consider the middle," said Lars. "You don't want to be the boat pilot so worried about his investment he can't enjoy himself. But you also don't want to be someone so worried about not staying dry that you can't go anywhere."

"This one here would not be a bad choice," Lars continued, pointing out a nice compact and solid-looking cruiser tied up nearby.

"The Middle Way," said the Soupster. "Lars, you're such a Buddhist."

"I'm not," Lars protested.

The Sitka Local Foods Network will host its sixth summer of Sitka Farmers Markets with six markets this year taking place on alternate Saturdays through Sept. 14. The Sitka Farmers Markets give Sitka residents a chance to buy and sell locally produced food and crafts. The Sitka Farmers Markets take place from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, July 20, Aug. 3, 17, 31, and Sept. 14 at the Alaska Native Brotherhood Founders Hall (235 Katlian St.). The markets feature local seafood (fresh, frozen, and cooked, ready to eat), locally grown and harvested fruits and vegetables, baked goods, locally made jams and jellies, live entertainment, locally brewed and roasted coffee, music, local arts and crafts, and a variety of other items gathered or made in Sitka. We emphasize local products and lots of fun. We are the first farmers market in Southeast Alaska to accept WIC coupons and Quest EBT for Food Stamps. You also can vote for the Sitka Farmers Market in the America's Favorite Farmers Markets contest by following the links at <http://www.sitkalocalfoodsnetwork.org/>. The Sitka Farmers Market started as a community wellness project that came out of a health priority planning meeting at the 2008 Sitka Health Summit. These events are sponsored by the Sitka Local Foods Network, Alaska Native Brotherhood Camp No. 1, Alaska Native Sisterhood Camp No. 4, Baranof Island Housing Authority, the Alaska Farmers Market Association and the SEARHC Health Promotion and Diabetes Prevention programs. "We are excited to have Bridget Kaufmann, bread-baker extraordinaire and former vendor, as our new market manager," Sadleir-Hart said. "Bridget brings loads of enthusiasm and some new ideas to the market and is focused on creating a sustainable market that can be in Sitka for the duration." AmeriCorps volunteers Sabrina Cimerol and Garrett Bauer will assist Bridget and share co-market managing duties. "As always the market will be a place to support the growing local food movement in Sitka and learn more about how to eat more sustainably." Vendor fees are $30 for a 6-foot table, $40 for an 8-foot table and $20 for a 4-foot table. Vendors with their own tents pay $5 per foot. As always, we offer cost incentives for vendors growing locally produced food. The fees will help us cover the costs of renting ANB Founders Hall and its kitchen, hiring musicians and other expenses. To learn more about being a vendor or to sign up for a table, contact Sitka Farmers Market Coordinator, Bridget Kauffman at 738-8683 or by e-mail sitkafarmersmarket@gmail.com. Vendor rules, registration forms and other information for potential vendors can be found on the Documents page at <http://www.sitkalocalfoodsnetwork.org/>. ### Ad#52251

I AM LEARNING & EARNING

“ I was looking for a distance program because living on my own, and working full time, I needed to be able to take classes after work or whenever it's convenient.

I chose Fisheries Technology because I love fishing and being on the ocean ... I decided to make a career of it.

It's been great. I recently had an internship with the Alaska Department of Fish & Game. It was fun and I learned a lot.

I'm almost ready to graduate with an AAS in Fisheries Technology. ”

COULD THEY USE DOG PADDLES?

Canoes were and are used by Native people throughout the world • People made canoes from wood, tree bark and skins, depending on what they had to use. In Southeast Alaska, Tlingit people traveled in canoes made by digging out the center of enormous trees • The largest of these dugout canoes could hold 50 people! • In Northern and Southwest Alaska, Native people perfected the building and use of kayaks • Today rowboats, kayaks and canoes are often made from aluminum, fiberglass and other manmade materials.
