Our Town Aug. 13, 2015 The Soupster learns secrets of keeping dry

"Bang...Bang, Bang...Bang," sang the hammer, as its owner, Our Town contractor Mike "Curt" Curtis, pounded nails. Curtis was working on the front of a house right on the road the Soupster passed on his morning walks.

The Soupster had taken the same walk for years and had the luxury of watching as the homes and yards slowly changed. Having the time to literally watch the paint peel – well, not literally – the Soupster noticed changes that even the homeowners might miss.

But it would be hard to miss the pile of warped shingles and pieces of soaked and rotted plywood lying in front of the house. Our Town's ever-present rain had worked its way under the shingles, causing them to warp. The rain then worked its way deeper and deeper, causing the rot.

The Soupster stopped in the street and regarded the pile. Curtis, descending a ladder, regarded the Soupster.

"Grody plywood, Curt," the Soupster said.

"I wish it was just plywood," said Curtis, jumping to the ground. "It's OSB plywood – oriented strand board. It's made up of little flakes of wood all held together with layers of glue. Soaks up water like a sponge. All the builders here hate it. They call it Beaver Poop* Board."

* ed. note: Poop is used here instead of another common scatological term that starts with "S" – for obvious reasons.

"Goodness!" said the Soupster, as a few drops of rain struck his bare head.

"Then," said Curtis, taking off his hat. He smoothed his hair and replaced the hat. "They thought they put enough ventilation in the attic."

"They thought wrong?" asked the Soupster, as the rain fell harder.

"And with the foundation," said Curt, nodding. "People don't understand that ventilating the foundation is important, just like the attic."

"It is? I mean, they don't?" said the Soupster, sounding out of his depth. The rain dripping down his face looked like cartoon beads of sweat.

Curtis laughed. "Nervous, Soupster?" he said. "Your house have any secrets I need to know about? I already fixed your porch, right?"

Curtis had saved the Soupster's house from damage when he noticed that the back porch had been tied directly into the house, instead of leaving a small space between them for drainage. Without that simple fix, rot would have started where water was trapped at the point where the porch connected with the house. The rot would then have spread.

"Well, it's no secret, Curt," the Soupster said, "that I admire you and all of Our Town's builders for knowing these tricks to keep the rain from biting us civilians on our bottoms."

"That's nice of you to say, Soupster," said Curtis as the rain began to pound even heavier.

"Any more good advice for me?" the Soupster asked, raising his voice to be heard.

"I'd buy a hat!" said Curtis.

Sitka Studio of Dance Registration and Gear Sale Sign up for the new school year! Sat, Aug 29 and Sun, Aug 30, 12-7pm. Classes begin on Mon, Aug 31. The studio is located at Sitka Studio of Dance offers a variety of classes for preschoolers (age 4) through adults including Ballet, Pointe, Women's Variations, Jazz, Hip Hop, Modern, Boys Crew, Lyrical, Fitness for Dancers and Ballet Barre Fitness. Ballet Barre Fitness is an exciting new addition to studio classes. Barre fitness is a blend of ballet, Pilates, and yoga. It's intended to improve flexibility, endurance, core strength, and balance. The movements are low-impact and high-intensity, providing a challenge for any ability and experience level. Exercises can be done entirely with body-weight, or with hand weights or resistance bands for increased strength building. The class will be taught by Jo DiGennaro. She has a degree in Kinesiology and a Minor in Dance. She is an IBBFA certified Ballet Barre Fitness Instructor. Phillip, from Empire Dance Shop, will have a mini store set up in a studio with dance shoes, clothes and accessories for sale. The 2015 Sitka Farmers Market will again accept QUEST cards for food stamp benefits during the upcoming farmers market season. In addition, the Sitka Local Foods Network (SLFN) will match up to $20 per food stamp participant per market until resources are exhausted. So a family of 4 on food stamps could end up with an extra $80 per market to use on approved foods like vegetables, breads, fish, jam, starts, etc. Find the SLFN booth at the market and cash in your benefits for market coins to spend at the market. It's that easy! The first market launches July 4th from 10am-1pm at the ANB Founders Hall and goes every other Saturday until 9/12/15. All Hip Replacements are NOT Created Equally!!

There is a surgical procedure available that can allow you to have a complete hip replacement and:

- Eliminate the need for physical therapy
- Allow you to cross your legs hours after surgery
- Walk with a cane instead of a walker
- Possibly return to work within one to two weeks
- Use no drugs stronger than Tylenol
- There are only two restrictions after surgery

To find out if you are a good candidate for this remarkable procedure, call my office 747-2726 to schedule your consultation. Your initial orthopedic and radiographic exam can be performed in the comfort of our local office.

I would be honored to assist you in regaining the pain-free life you once lived.

POLAR BEAR CANDLE

Before there were electric lights, people burned candles in the evening. Candles were first made 5,000 years ago! • Candles also were used to measure time because they burn steadily • Someone who makes candles is called a "chandler" • Today, most people burn candles to make a room more cozy • Campers use candles for light and even to heat food!
