Because of his enduring commitment to the Sitka Fine Arts Camp, Rivaldo became camp mascot in 2012.

Rivaldo was first put to pen by multi-media artist Bayla Arietta.

Bayla was a 2013 Vista Volunteer in Sitka, and now lives in Connecticut.

She currently has an exhibit in Portland, Oregon, along with 60 other artists, to help people be aware of what happens to birds when they fly into windows & glass buildings.

“Having made guest appearances in skits of every art form at nightly Art Shares, Rivaldo may be the most multi-talented artist to grace the campus.”
