The Soupster gets a lesson in real wisdom

The Soupster put his head down into the wind and lurched up Lincoln St. His stomach gurgled mightily -- two of the items he had eaten for lunch evidently did not get along. He thought he might chuck up.

The argument in the Soupster's tummy reached crisis proportions and required action. Specifically, a rest room. Luckily, he was just steps outside of Pops' Pro Prop Shop, and the Soupster knew Pops was a kindly soul -- believed by many to be the smartest guy in Our Town.

Inside the shop, Pops was leaning on his front counter, listening to Susan Gregory, the owner of Notions, Lotions & Potions, a store right down the street.

The Soupster burst in with gills so green, he didn't even have to explain himself. Pops just jerked a thumb over his left shoulder in the direction of the commode. As soon as the Soupster reached refuge, his stomach calmed. Through the thin walls, he could hear the conversation going on at the front counter.

"Judy Barnes and I had some harsh words, Pops, about whether the new Sitka Shoulder Festival should be before or after the regular cruise ship season," Susan said. "She just doesn't understand that ShoulderFest should be before the regular season, when the weather is good and the daylight is increasing. You're the smartest guy in town. What do you think?"

"Ah, the shoulders," said Pops. He stroked his chin and took a long time to answer. "I think, Susan, that you are absolutely right." Susan left with a big smile on her face.

The Soupster was starting to think his stomach was settled, but it gurgled loudly and he decided to set a spell and see what transpired. Just as well, for a second later the aforementioned Judy Barnes, of A Kinder Kinder children's store, made her appearance in Pops' Props. (ed. Note: First "Kinder" rhymes with "finder" and second Kinder rhymes with "cinder.")

"I'm just so upset at that Susan Gregory," Judy said. "Because ShoulderFest was her idea in the first place, she thinks she gets to decide everything, right? Who would want to have their Shoulder Festival in the Spring? Everyone is trying to get their new inventory out and prepare for the coming rush!

"Having ShoulderFest at the end of the tourist season only makes sense. Think of the Clearance Sales we could have! Pops, everybody knows you're Our Town's smartest guy. What do you think?"

Again, Pops stroked his chin and concentrated. Finally, he said: "Judy, after consideration, I believe you are absolutely right." The Soupster could hear the confident, satisfied clicks of Judy's heels as she left Pops' shop.

The Soupster - who had loved and respected Pops for years - feared that the old man may have showed himself a fraud. He stepped out of the back and confronted Pops. "You told Susan she was right and then you told Judy she was right – even though Judy said the exact opposite of Susan. Everybody thinks you're the smartest guy in Our Town, but all you do is tell people what they want to hear."

Pops stroked his chin and took a long time to answer. "Soupster," Pops said, "You are absolutely right."

Wanted

Hey my name is Ben Timby, and I'm looking to move to Sitka. I thought it'd be worth a try to throw out an ad here that I'm looking for work in either commercial fishing or carpentry, both of which I'm well acquainted with. My dad is a licensed contractor who I was trained by since adolescence. When I was 18 I fled up to AK and got into commercial fishing. I've seined in PWS, opilio crabbed in the Bering , and ran a set net operation in Cook inlet the past five years. Just looking to switch things up in life. I'm a 24 year old drug-free, motivated worker. Feel free to call me anytime at 907-399-3411 Ben. Ad#37852

The City and Borough of Sitka and the Sitka Economic Development Association (SEDA) are studying the potential for development of marine services industry components at the Sawmill Cove Industrial Park. Potential projects include: a deep-water bulkhead dock, a boat haul out facility, and a moorage area for large vessels. Vessel owners and others who decide where vessels are to be moored and/or hauled out for service are requested to take a few minutes to fill out an online survey by going to: https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/SawmillCove. Your responses will help determine the demand for boat haul out and large vessel moorage, and how best to configure infrastructure. Even if your vessel does not currently use Sitka for these kinds of services, your ideas and opinions are valuable to the feasibility study. Information provided will only be used for the purposes of the feasibility study in combination with all other responses. Individual survey answers will be kept confidential. Contact SEDA for any questions or for a printed copy of the survey

Why are bananas never lonely? Because they hang around in bunches.

Time flies like an arrow, but fruit flies like a banana.

How did the Mother Banana spoil the Baby Banana? She left him out in the sun too long.

Mother Banana: Why didn't you go to school today? Little Banana: Because I didn't peel well.

What is a ghost's favorite fruit? Boo-nana!
